

Response from a Network 10 spokesperson:

“We are being incredibly agile, flexible and creative with our approach to ensure audiences will see very little difference in the news content being presented to them.

“In our new model, we will continue to employ experienced local reporters, producers and camera crews to ensure we deliver local news to local markets, including breaking news as it happens.”