

25-July-2025

Statement from Kate Geraghty,

The images taken by the incredibly brave Palestinian photographers of children starving in Gaza that have been published on front pages across the world are such images and ones we will never forget.

The Israeli government does not allow international media to independently report from Gaza. It is Palestinian photographers and journalists in Gaza who risk their lives everyday documenting what is happening.