

Statement from News Corp Australia spokesperson:

Members of the Press Gallery - from the ABC, to The Guardian to News Corp Australia- regularly scrutinise Bills put forward by all political parties.

Renee Viellaris did not reveal an asylum seeker's identity and their medical history, just like The Guardian in its "Nauru Files" did not disclose the identities of children who were allegedly sexually assaulted while in regional processing.

Any suggestion that Renee Viellaris revealed the identity of an individual and their medical history is completely false.
