

Statement from News Corp Australia spokesperson:

The onus to ensure advertising meets regulations lies with the advertiser. In this case News Corp Australia is a minority shareholder in Betr and has no control of its daily operations. When the regulator alerted us that the ads might be in breach - as it has in the past with other bookmakers - we agreed immediately to no longer run them.