

Response from ACMA:

Under the Commercial Television Industry Code of Practice, the rules that apply to advertising alcoholic products (section 6) and the disclosure of commercial arrangements (section 4) come into effect when the licensee receives payment or other valuable consideration.

To date the ACMA has not received any complaints about the segment.