Statement from an ACMA spokesperson,

Under the broadcasting co-regulatory system, concerns about potential non-compliance with the Commercial Television Industry Code of Practice should go to the broadcaster in the first instance. If a complainant does not receive a response from the broadcaster within 60 days or is not satisfied with the response they do receive, they may refer their complaint to the ACMA. The ACMA will then assess the complaint and may choose to open an investigation.

The ACMA has not received any complaints about the content you refer to.
