Following their culinary journey across Western Australia, celebrated comic and cultural man Derek Nannup and world class Indigenous Chef Mark Olive are back to serve up more of the best in Indigenous cooking – this time exploring the Illawarra coastal region of New South Wales, home to some of the most delectable produce, inspiring characters and breath-taking scenery in Australia.

Despite Mark's many teachings, Derek still hasn't quite mastered how to cook but that doesn't stop 'The Black Olive' from taking his travelling companion on an epic tour of the Illawarra, where Mark has lived, on and off, for the last three decades. This is Mark's chance to show Derek around and introduce him to everything and everyone the region has to offer, sharing his expertise in the fusion of native herbs with his own incredible recipes inspired by the region.

Traveling in a vintage 1962 Holden Ute through the winding trees of Ulladulla down to the serene waters of Bateman's Bay and beyond, Mark and Derek discover some of Australia's best produce and meet the people responsible for farming it – cooking up an Indigenous-inspired feast for the inspiring local characters they visit along their journey.

Featuring an entertaining blend of hijinks and adventure, with even more mouth-watering recipes on offer, including marinated olives, paperbark whiting, savoury goats cheese muffins, chocolate damper and more, the acclaimed second series of On Country Kitchen delivers Australia's very best in Indigenous cooking, while serving up helpful tips audiences can incorporate into their own meals at home!
