Will do – that should be in the bag as of 0800 interview at Sydney Consulate on Monday morning..can only assume it will then arrive by courier within next 2 days.

Huge week for you guys...try to get some sleep.

Thanks Greg,

We'll see you Monday so you have a day to deal with the jet lag. If you come in about 10 on Monday Grady will be here to give you keys etc. I'll be in the office on Sunday afternoon if you need anything.

See you Monday!

FYI – for those who haven't read... I am into DC Saturday night – will send message/email Sunday confirming arrival.

Am told by Nicki and others that there is not much can be organised re: building access etc on the Sunday – but consider me available if needed.

Cheers...GJ

Greg,

The phone number will be s 22 .

The sim was set up for someone staying for a shorter period than you, so it will probably need additional minutes/data/texts (maybe not all) loaded at some point.

I have reserved a furnished apartment and will send the details as soon as they are received.

Regards,

Grady

Hi Greg,

Not at work today so can't pass along the number until next week.

The card is from AT&T and is not from the same vendor as the previous ones. Should work fine in all regards though for your extended stay it will be necessary at some point to add more call minutes and maybe data.

Regards,

Grady

Hi Grady,

Thanks for helping out with the necessary arrangements before my arrival in a week or so...

Just noting your reference to the Andrew Greene SIM for my iPhone 6...and with 2 questions:

- (1) Would you please be able to provide me that number before I leave Aus, so I can distribute it to those who need to know here?
- (2) With which carrier is it – and do we know it works for data, especially if it has never been used (I heard that others had experienced a couple of problems with their's?)

Look forward to meeting you in a week or so.

Hi Greg,

Good to hear you made it safe and sound.

Best to come in a bit later because our days tend to get very long at the other end due to the time difference. If you come in at 10 Roscoe and I will be here and Grady will be able to give you your door fob etc

Feel free to give me a call if you need anything in the meantime.

See you tomorrow.

Hi Zoe,

Just letting you know, I have arrived and – after a solid sleep! – shall get my bearings today and work out best route to office.

Not sure what time(s) people get in tomorrow, but I'll aim to arrive around 0800 (unless advised otherwise – happy to be earlier or later, as there will be a bit for me to absorb..)

Obviously I don't get U.S. SIM until I see Grady tomorrow, so am in "flight mode" with AUS mobile inactive to avoid the costs.

Still, I can be iMessaged when on wifi, via:

Or even skyped! Username: s 22

Umm – I will try Skype..see if I can work it out...(as I really don't want to rack up any big costs for ABC on my +61 SIM.

I rarely use Skype, but should be OK – I will spend 15 mins working it out and try around 0915 your time.

If not, there's always facetime via wifi.

Sunday arvo now and I have been in touch with Zoe...I am to front at Bureau tomorrow morning (early hours Tues, your time)

Will then get U.S. SIM from Grady H. and confirm the number for you.

My AUS mobile is in 'flight mode' until then, to avoid costs.

Still, I can be contacted by this ABC email, or  s 22

Seems my U.S. number will be +1  s 22

But will confirmation comes once in my phone and working tomorrow.

Just wondered if that looked feasible?
