

Responses from Roxy Jacenko:

1. Why did you not disclose that no one would win the house unless $11.5m was raised in entry fees?

I was not made aware of this. Youssef Tleis managed the T&C's in their entirety and approved all communications regarding the promotion direct with Plexus. I had no involvement.

2. Why was this not in the Terms and Conditions that were signed off by you as a director?

I am a shareholder, I did not sign off on T&C's and was not requested to.

3. Why did you not make clear that the odds of anyone winning the house were around 33,000 to 1?

I was not aware of the odds nor were they presented to me by Youssef Tleis or Kassim Alouie.

4. Why did you imply that the house was yours?

At no time I did imply the house was mine.

Any property I have bought or own has been widely documented in media, I did not suggest the property on offer was mine, the property is in the name of Youssef Tleis and Kassim Alouie and their Design Company, DEZCON was widely noted on both the Promotion Website and also the Properties standalone Instagram.

There was NO communication or implication saying WIN MY HOUSE.

5. What do you say to Justice McGrath's observation that your conduct was deceptive and misleading? And to your lawyer's agreement that it was deceptive and misleading 'for a few days'.

Promotion Launched on March 8th, 2024 – on March 12th 2024 I advised Youssef Tleis and Kassim Alouie in writing that I did NOT Agree with the promotion and it was NOT what I signed up for, as such, I suggested all customers should be REFUNDED and we should cancel the promotion. I also noted that I would WEAR ANY START UP COSTS I had personally incurred. THIS WAS REJECTED by Youssef Tleis and Kassim Alouie and I was persuaded we had to keep going.

6. Have you paid back anyone who purchased a Roxy Boot Camp course? If not, when do you plan to do so?

The Director of the company Youssef Tleis and fellow shareholder, Kassim Alouie will not commit to any refunds, they have stated this in writing. As such, I have commenced refunding those who have applied for a refund for the Promotion PERSONALLY from my own pocket.

14 June 2024

Yes, these refunds commenced on Tuesday 11th June 2024 and have been processed daily since this date.

I note, I was the one who sought the Supreme Court Injunction, which was granted by the court.
