

Fairfield mosque letter – Correction, 21 November 2025

Last week Sky News Australia published a number of interviews and commentary on Credlin, The Late Debate, AM Agenda and SkyNews.com.au relating to a Daily Telegraph report about a letter circulating in Fairfield, NSW which claimed that a religious organisation intended to build a mosque on land zoned for up to 50 homes. The Daily Telegraph has since updated its initial report, noting that a leading Sydney Islamic leader says the letter is “fake”. Sky News Australia has removed the publications from all its platforms and acknowledges the land in question is not owned by the Australian Iraqi Muslim Society Inc. Any contrary suggestion in the publications was incorrect.
