From a Sky Racing Spokesman:

“Racing NSW had no involvement in the editorial process and did not make any requests about the content.

“Our programming team decided the interview would benefit from taking more time to ensure a stronger editorial rollout across all of our platforms and greater promotion of the piece.

“The new time slot also coincided with the start of The Championships and the running of the TJ Smith Stakes, which is named in honour of Gai’s father.

“Rumours that the piece was delayed to remove references about the proposed sale of Rosehill are simply not true.”
