2GB spokesperson

Ms Druce was interviewed as a business owner about her own experience. Her political views played no part in the decision to run the story. She mentioned Mr McCormack and Senator Canavan briefly and unprompted, Ben didn't pursue it, and no Nationals representative was interviewed.

During the first interview, Ben committed on air to seeking the Council's response. The next day, Junee Shire Council General Manager Michael Jackson joined the program to set out the Council's full position, and indicated the fine would be reviewed now the work has been completed. Within 24 hours, listeners had heard both sides and there was a path to resolving the dispute.
